CABINET TAKES UP COAL CRISIS

GOP 'BIG GUNS' BLAST DEMS ON HOUSING, ROADS

Herbert, Bricker Lead Attack at Rally Attended By 700 in City.

Mansfield and Richland county Republicans turned out 700 strong last night to hear the major candidates of their party blast the Democratic administrations, state and federal, as "extravagant, inefficient and dictatorial" in the county's major GOP rally of the campaign.

The party's "big guns"—John W. Bricker, U. S. senatorial candidate; Thomas J. Herbert, candidate for governor; Congressman J. Harry McGregor, seeking re-election, and State Treasurer Don H. Ebright, candidate for re-election—spoke in John Simpson auditorium.

Claiming that people everywhere in Ohio are swinging to the Republican party this year, Herbert charged his opponent, Gov. Frank J. Lausche, "failed the veterans in bungling the on-the-job training program," vetoed a legislative bill designed to aid schools suffering from a teacher shortage, and "failed to properly maintain the highways though having ample funds and some 2,500 to 2,700 more employes on the payroll than Bricker had."

"We are proud of our entire team of candidates. We believe it will root out of Ohio the New Deal philosophy of planned control of our daily lives, a philosophy practiced in both the Washington and Columbus administrations of today," Herbert said.

Hits New Deal.

Bricker blasted the "bureaucratic New Deal commissars who practically order our daily lives for us" in the most ringing speech of the rally.

Deploring the "loss of freedom under the Democratic administration," he declared:

"Those in public office now believe we must have our thinking done for us—what we'll wear, what we'll eat, what work we'll do, or even if we will eat or work at all."

"You may have heard of the federal government cutting down its payroll. That may be true; but what you don't know is that the same federal government has put on the payroll 300,000 more employes since the first of the year.

"There are 220,000 federal agents working in Ohio alone. They are making a complete inventory of Ohio people, and it's

SCHOOLS MADE CAMPAIGN ISSUE

GOP Raps Lausche's Veto of 1945 Appropriations Bill.

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Governor Lausche's veto of a school appropriations bill in 1945 became the major issue in the gubernatorial campaign today.

Lausche insisted at Lima that he was a "friend of the schools," pledged anew to work for increased teachers' salaries, and defended the veto as "in fact a blow for freedom of schools and all other agencies of the state from undue domination and dictation."

However, his Republican opponent, former Attorney General Thomas J. Herbert, again bitterly attacked Lausche's "record of promising increased appropriations for the public schools as a candidate and then vetoing them as governor."

Meanwhile, U. S. Senator James W. Huffman, a Lausche appointee, insisted that "there is no issue of communism in this senatorial campaign," while his Republican opponent, former Gov. John W. Bricker, warned of the spectre of national bankruptcy unless a Republican congress is elected.

At Delaware former Gov. Myers Y. Cooper told a Republican rally that the New Deal administration had brought about a national food and commodity shortages by "an unwise policy of emptying the horn of plenty in excessive measure in foreign lands."

POPE WILL SPEAK

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy—(U.P.)—Pope Pius XII will broadcast a special message in English tomorrow at 11 a. m., EST, to the Congress of Catechism at Boston under the auspices of the Confraternity of Catholic Men.

FUND DRIVE NEARS GOAL

Uptown Division Goes Over Top as Campaign Total Reaches $91,213.

Goal	$94,067
Raised	$91,213
Needed	$2,854

All uptown divisions in the Mansfield Community Fund campaign had exceeded their quotas today, while total receipts from solicitations left only $2,854 to be collected by the campaign deadline Monday night.

Collections to noon today totaled $91,213 with the uptown divisions more than $10,000 ahead of their goal. Industry remained far behind with no receipts today, leaving the total at $48,627, $14,373 short of the goal.

Latest division chairman of the uptown group to go over their goals were C. J. Solomon of the auto division, Myron Miller of the Public service division; C. C. Tansel of construction; Norman L. Wolfe of public employes, and Dean Dickerson, of the food division.

Latest receipts of uptown divisions are: auto, $2,325; construction, $4,165; education, $2,110; financial, $4,933; food, $4,487; professions, $4,681; public employes, $1,408; public services, $3,988; retail, $7,242; women's, $7,247.

Duck Season Due Tomorrow

Mansfield duck hunters will head for the northern Ohio lake areas Saturday morning as the wildfowl season gets under way.

Game experts said there won't be many ducks, and the weatherman, who predicted fair and cool for tomorrow, didn't help matters any. Rainy, or cloudy and cold weather is better for duck hunters because it brings the birds closer to inland lakes.

The duck season will be open until Dec. 9 and shooting hours will be from a half hour before sunrise to a half hour before sunset. The bag limit is seven per day for ducks. The limit for wild geese is two per day.

Mansfield hunters do most of their shooting at Charles Mill and Pleasant Hill lakes and in the Lake Erie marshes.

BABY STARVES

Police Charge Unwed Mother With Murder.

WOBURN, Mass. — (INS) — A young unwed mother of two children was held today on a charge of murder, accused of letting her two-months-old, unnamed daughter, starve to death in the attic of her home.

District Attorney George E. Thompson accused Miss Gladys Hall, 24, of murder, and stated:

"Miss Hall told us she put the baby in the attic to die last Tuesday at 8 a. m. and that she hadn't seen it since."

Thieves Concoct Fancy Beverage

PHILADELPHIA —(U.P.)— The Philadelphia underworld came up with a new drink today — champagne iced with frozen strawberries.

Evidence revealed that thieves who broke into the office of a frozen food concern yesterday battered open a liquor chest, then sat around drinking goblets of champagne into which they dropped the frozen berries.

Landmark of Gay 90s Yields To Expansion

Broken bits of brick and the dust of time-hardened mortar filled today halls where once Mansfield society danced.

Wreckers were tearing down the old Blymyer Inn at Park avenue west and Mulberry street.

As they pounded down walls of the 21-room house the last tangible evidence of Mansfield's top social events of the latter part of the nineteenth century faded away. In recent years, the Blymyer Inn had been a favorite residence for elderly Mansfielders who found it convenient to the downtown area.

They found quiet contentment in the huge front hallway with its spacious stairway where George Blymyer and his family years ago welcomed guests.

Perhaps at times, their thoughts turned to days when the happy laughter of hoop-skirted belles and gay young blades echoed through the high-ceilinged rooms.

Within three weeks, wreckers said, there will be nothing left at the scene but a vacant lot. The roof already is gone. Work progressed today toward razing the third floor.

Officials of the Mansfield Wrecking and Materials company say that if weather and labor conditions remain favorable the job will be finished by mid-November. The Canfield Oil company has leased the site and plans to convert it into a parking lot as another evidence of an expanding Mansfield.

NOT FAR TO GO

LONDON —(U.P.)— Krishna Kumar Chatterjee, a Brahmin weighing about 100 pounds, notified Prime Minister Clement Attlee by letter today that he will begin a death fast in London at midnight Oct. 31 unless the British government declares India's unequivocal independence immediately.

COURT GRANTS $7,000 TO ADC

Transfer From Utility Tax Fund Is Approved.

The livelihood of some 250 Richland county children benefiting from support of the aid to dependent children program was assured today by terms of a ruling of Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch.

Judge Kalbfleisch late yesterday handed down an opinion permitting transfer of $7,000 from the public utility excise tax fund to the ADC fund. The ruling will permit the county commissioners to provide money for the ADC for the last two months of the year.

The commissioners requested common pleas court approval because there was doubt that the money legally could be transferred.

Judge Kalbfleisch, in his opinion, quoted the law's stipulation that the utility fund shall be "allocated to the general fund of each county for county statutory relief and welfare purposes."

Holding that ADC is a form of relief. Judge Kalbfleisch approved the transfer and directed the county prosecutor to prepare the court's necessary journal entry granting it.

ADC programs here and elsewhere have encountered financial difficulties. Last July officials feared a 40 per cent cut in benefits to ADC families would be necessary because of depleted funds.

Because of an unencumbered balance of more than $69,000 in the utility tax fund, the county commissioners had wanted to use this money to bolster the ADC treasury and so began action to win the court's approval of the transfer. Approval of the state board of tax appeals had already been obtained.

Pupils Get First Holiday Of New Term

Pupils in Mansfield and Richland county schools got their first holiday of the new school year today.

Classes were dismissed to permit superintendents, principals and teachers to attend their annual conventions in Cleveland and Toledo.

Several hundred teachers from the city area are expected to attend the Cleveland convention, which will be highlighted Saturday afternoon by an address by Dr. Walter H. Judd, Minnesota congressman. Dr. Judd will speak on "The Significance of Events in Asia."

The Cleveland orchestra under the direction of Rudolph Ringwall, will play for the teachers Saturday morning.

TROUBLES GROW IN AIR STRIKE

Maritime Tieup Continues; Teamsters Call Walkout.

(By United Press)

Fresh labor trouble developed for strike-bound Transcontinental & Western Air, Inc., today.

The air line strike called by the AFL Pilots' union appeared no nearer settlement in its fifth day. Meanwhile, the Independent International Association of Machinists charged that the air line violated its contract by laying off machinists.

Meanwhile, ship operators met to study a counter-proposal made by the AFL Masters, Mates and Pilots union in an attempt to settle the prolonged nationwide shipping tie-up. In a fourth major labor dispute, the AFL Teamsters' union called a strike against 63 Pennsylvania breweries.

The Columbus transit strike ended after company and union officials reached agreement on issues to be arbitrated and the method of arbitration. The way now was clear for the employes to resume work after the ratification today by the union membership pending final arbitration of wage and other issues.

Other labor developments:

1. A 178-day strike ended at the LaCrosse, Wis., farm machinery plant of Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co. with acceptance of a new contract by CIO members.

2. A strike by the AFL Musicians' union next Sunday against 100 of the nation's electrical transcription companies appeared inevitable.

3. Housewives were plagued with accumulating garbage at Wausau, Wis., in a strike of 150 city employes.

OPA's Not Yet Dead As a Dodo

WASHINGTON — (INS)— A survey of remaining price controls showed today that OPA still has ceilings on items accounting for about 45 cents out of every cost-of-living dollar.

Leading the list of controls which have a direct affect on the private citizen is the ceiling on rents. Rents, according to the bureau of labor statistics, amount to about 14½ per cent of current living costs, placing second only to food on the cost-of-living index.

Next on the list comes wearing apparel and shoes, which account for about 13 per cent of living costs. Then follows a long list of items and services including household furnishings, coal, sugar and rice, laundry and dry cleaning, repairing of all types, automobiles, radios, refrigerators and other appliances, soap, clocks and watches and bicycles and other "wheeled goods."

* * *

MANY VITAL ITEMS STILL ON LIST

Controlled items of secondary interest to the consumer but important to the national economy include building materials, rubber goods of all sorts, most drugs and chemicals, lumber, paper and paper products, all basic metals, about 40 per cent of all industrial and farm machinery, textiles, hides and leathers and paints and wallpapers.

OPA economists estimated that controls now in effect cover about 50 per cent of the national economy, exclusive of government.

Just how long some of these items will remain under ceilings is a matter of extreme conjecture even within OPA itself.

The agency has revealed that the sweeping decontrol of foods in the past two weeks is to be followed on or about Nov. 1 with removal of controls on a number of other items, including some unimportant building materials, certain articles of clothing and other consumer goods.

This is in keeping with the administration's "accelerated decontrol" policy.

Rents appear to have replaced meat as the most controversial item on the control list, with building materials running a close second.

Battle Fire At Airport

City firemen and airport personnel fought a grass fire at the municipal airport for several hours yesterday afternoon before bringing it under control.

The fire, which began on the Erie railroad right of way at the northeast corner of the field, burned 250 acres of grass and for a time threatened an abandoned farmhouse near the field.

Earlier, another grass fire was extinguished by firemen on the property of O. M. Cummings on Coleman road. No damage was reported.

Fire Chief L. J. Steele also reported a false alarm at 6:02 p. m. at Sturges avenue and First street.

PRICES STEADY

Livestock Markets Showing Less Fluctuation.

CHICAGO —(AP)— Receipts of hogs at the nation's major livestock terminals were the highest in three days today, but cattle and sheep supplies dropped far below last Friday.

Early price indications were for steady values as compared with yesterday. Hogs opened at Chicago with a high of $24.50 which also was the best price in the previous session.

Estimated salable receipts at the 12 principal markets today were 51,500 hogs, compared with 45,700 yesterday, 38,880 a week ago, and 23,196 a year ago. Cattle totaled 23,700 today, 46,000 yesterday, 54,150 last Friday, and 19,599 a year ago. Sheep on sale were estimated at 26,900 today, 41,700 yesterday, 61,103 a week ago, and 32,560 a year ago.

Nazi Experimenters Facing Prosecution

NUERNBERG — (INS) — Brig. Gen. Telford Taylor, chief United States war crimes prosecutor, announced that indictments are being filed today against 23 Nazi SS doctors including one woman.

The charges against the doctors include that of carrying out atrocities in the form of experiments on concentration camp victims.

GOVERNMENT 'ANALYZING' ITS CONTRACT

Strike Threat Looms Larger With Approach of Nov. 1 Deadline Set By Lewis.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The threatened coal crisis was brought up at President Truman's cabinet meeting today and Attorney General Clark later said his office is "analyzing" the government's contract with John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers.

Clark told reporters that while he had not been asked to study the contract, "we always analyze those things so we will be ready if called upon."

The contract was negotiated last May after the government seized the idle soft coal mines.

Secretary of War Patterson said in response to questions merely that the coal situation had been "mentioned" at the 40-minute cabinet session.

* * *

Up to Krug, Steelman.

He replied that the only discussion of the matter was that it is in the hands of Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug and Reconversion Director John R. Steelman.

Krug is now on a western tour that is not scheduled to end until Nov. 6, the day after election.

Lewis has demanded reopening of the existing wage agreement and has served notice that the pact will be "void" unless the negotiations begin Nov. 1. The Federal Coal Mines Administration has taken the stand that the contract is good for the duration of government operation of the mines.

* * *

President Mum.

When a reporter asked if Mr. Truman was optimistic about the outlook on coal, Clark said that the president had not indicated whether he is or not.

Government labor officials, growing more anxious by the hour, privately expressed the opinion that another round of strikes would bring down the wrath of congress and might provoke severe labor legislation when the lawmakers return in January.

Meanwhile, coal industry spokesmen in Pittsburgh said a general mine strike next month would cut off home supplies of coal almost immediately.

Coal retailers already are behind with orders, the industry said, and a work stoppage would catch them with little or no stockpiles.

VISITING NURSE SERVICE ENDS

Association Votes to Quit Dec. 1, After 30 Years.

After 30 years of service to Mansfield, the Visiting Nurse association will suspend its bedside nursing program Dec. 1.

This decision was taken unanimously at a meeting of the executive board, held at the home of the president, Mrs. Robert B. Black, Millsboro road, and announced today.

The board reported:

"A survey showed that the need for this type of service had been steadily declining over a period of years. The reason for this has been the progress made in health education, group hospitalization, convalescent and old peoples nursing homes, the miracle drugs which have greatly reduced the number of pneumonia cases in older people, and the women trained in the home nursing courses.

"For 25 years a large proportion of the cases were for maternity care. This service is now entirely handled by the hospital.

"After investigating the nursing service given in other towns of the size of Mansfield, it was found that while in other towns the cases averaged 8 to 10 calls per nurse per day, ours had dropped as low as three.

"The Visiting Nurse association

Good Football Weather Promised

The weatherman is "playing ball" with football fans throughout Ohio this weekend by promising clear and cool weather tomorrow. Skies are due to clear tonight.

Scattered showers were predicted for Sunday and probably again Wednesday. The temperature, which reached summer readings yesterday, will be cool through Sunday and somewhat warmer Monday and Tuesday, the weather bureau said.

Recreation Levy Would Help City Make Better Use of Its Schools

Mansfield's school buildings are not paying for themselves, according to Floyd Dent, area Scout executive and member of the city's recreation commission, sponsoring agency of the two-tenths mill recreation levy to go on the ballot Nov. 5.

"School buildings are used on an average of five hours daily," Dent said. "They are empty during the evening when children need someplace to go for recreation, so the children play on the streets."

Under the proposed recreation program, the school buildings, as well as the playgrounds surrounding them, would be put to use as recreation centers. Dent asserted that the use of these public buildings would be invaluable to the winter recreation program, which could offer dramatics, handicraft, card tournaments, table tennis and other activities to adults as well as children.

"School buildings are public property; therefore, they should be used by the public and for the public," Dent continued. "A well-rounded recreation program throughout the year, coordinated by a trained director, will prove that recreation centers can be set up as well in Mansfield's school buildings as in other city schools."

Dent added that he had been approached numerous times recently by factory representatives, scouting the city for desirable features toward locating here.

"The first thing they ask me is 'how is Mansfield's recreation program?' They can't understand it when I tell them that Mansfield has no organized recreation."

The levy would produce approximately $12,000 a year for five years from the existing tax duplicate. Cost to the average home owner per year has been estimated at 60 cents—the price of a movie—or the price of a pack of gum per month. The levy will require a 65 per cent majority to pass it.

German Kids Learn About Halloween

Berlin — (AP) — Halloween is a strange American festival to German children, but about 700 of them are learning about it at a youth club being run here by five American soldiers.

The clubhouse is a rambling, turreted German house in the borough of Zehlendorf. Its 17 rooms are filled with clay equipment, musical instruments, books and handicraft articles.

There five enlisted men of the 3110th service battalion hold open house for club members, aged eight to 20 years, daily from 9 a. m. to about 10:30 p. m.

Head men of the quintet are Sgt. Earl Albers of Crab Orchard, Neb., and Corp. Asa Blackburn of Toronto, Ohio. They are the program arrangers and their programs calls for special parties on holidays and festivals.

One of these is Halloween.

"The kids here celebrate Christmas just as we do, and you can hear them practicing carols now," said Blackburn. "But they don't know about Halloween and it isn't easy to explain this American day. We are doing it by translating stories about the day.

"Any pumpkin in gardens in Berlin gets eaten, so we are making jack o' lanterns of cardboards. We've got the candles and we are going to get apples for apple-dunking.

We are telling the kids about costumes and blackface and, yes, about Halloween pranks, too, and we hope to have them visit the homes of some American dependents near here and have American kids visit the club.

"We only hope no one gets the idea of putting the major's jeep on the garage roof. But even if they did, the major probably wouldn't get sore. It would only prove the kids at the club are learning to play the game—maybe a bit too fast, but learning, and that's what counts."

ATTLEE BLUNT

Prime Minister States His Disapproval of Reds.

BRIGHTON, Eng.—(INS)—Prime Minister Clement Attlee asserted yesterday that to Communists democracy is a means of achieving power "by hook or more often by crook."

He told the British Trades Union Congress, "democracy is becoming a much abused word. It is often used by those who never understood or practiced democratic principles to mean achievement of power by hook or more often by crook by the Communist party."

Attlee added that to the Communists, "freedom" means the denial of liberty to all those who refuse to accept the Communist philosophy.

MADISON WINS FOURTH STRAIGHT, 38-19

Bury Fredericktown Before 3,000 Fans

By BRUCE M'GINTY

Mansfield Madison turned loose a touchdown barrage last night to completely subdue Fredericktown, 38-19, before 3,000 fans at the Rams' field. It was the fourth straight win for Coach Jeff DeHaven's club and made the seasonal record five wins and two losses.

Halfway through the fourth quarter DeHaven sent his varsity to the showers and it was then that the Freddies scored 12 points against the Rams' third and fourth teams.

Fredericktown kicked off to the Rams and three plays netted 55 yards. Herbie Eldridge went off tackle from the 10 for the first score. Dick Ernsberger converted.

The Freddies came back late in the first period to tie the score. After Bob Barton and Bob Postle alternated carrying the pigskin 59 yards, Carl Moore took the ball over from the one-yard stripe on a quarterback sneak. Postle converted.

The Rams took the Freddies' kick-off and started a 75-yard march for their second touchdown On the first play Jack Herr scooted 13 yards and Walker picked up another first down with a 16-yard smash Herr went off tackle for nine and Ernsberger plowed through center for six.

Ernsberger threw the first aerial of the game to Herr for 16 yards on the Freddies' 22. Herr hit tackle for nine and Ernsberger gained six through center.

Ernsberger came back on the next play to score.

Just before the half ended, Herr took the ball from Eldridge on a reverse and romped 20 yards for the third TD, culminating a 65-yard march. Ernsberger converted. The Rams led 20 to 7 at the half.

Eldridge scored the next touchdown on an off-tackle smash from the three and Ken Gabor came back in the fourth quarter and scored two more six-pointers on quarterback sneaks, both after extended drives.

Bob Postle romped 60 yards for the second Freddie marker and in the closing minutes Barton added the final six points on a one-yard buck

Madison picked up 338 yards to 222 for the victors and outgained them in first downs 17 to 11.

GALION—Cellar-dwelling Bellevue upset Galion high in a Northern Ohio league contest here last night The victory was Bellevue first in seven games this season while the Tigers had broken even in six starts prior to last night's conflict.

Todd recovered a Galion fumble on the one-yard line in the first period and Shelley bucked over. Bruckner counted the seventh point.

After the half, Galion marched for a TD with Price going over from the 17. Riter knotted the count.

The Redmen came right back to go 68-yards to win the decision. Shelley again tallied on a short line smash and Bruckner added the point.

Ashland Faces Hiram College

ASHLAND — Ashland college's Eagles face Hiram college tomorrow afternoon in the annual homecoming game at 2 o'clock. Ruth Applegath will preside as queen for the gala affair.

The Eagles record at the halfway mark is wins over Wittenberg, 13 -7, and Ohio Northern, 6-0. They have lost to Heidelberg 7-0, and tied Mt. Union, 6-0.

Kenny Funk, an All-Ohio back in 1945 who has accounted for 18 of the Eagles 25 points this season, will miss the game due to a knee injury he received in the Wittenburg tilt last Saturday.

Alex Schwaner of Mansfield, who was injured in the Ohio Northern game, is expected to see plenty of action upon his return to uniform.

Head Football Coach George Donges said that Dick McMullen, a tackle from Mansfield, is a good prospect for an All-Ohio berth this season McMullen is the fifth man in the opponents backfield the way he crashes through the line, Donges added

Clyde "Skip" Hawkins will replace Funk

Hiram comes to Ashland with a two win, two loss record and is expected to give the Eagles plenty of tough football before the afternoon is over.

Shelby Edges Norwalk, 14-6, For Fifth Straight Triumph

NORWALK—The Shelby Whippets strengthened their lead in the Northern Ohio league grid race by defeating the Norwalk Raiders, 14 to 6, before 6,500 fans who filled Whitney field to overflowing here last night.

It was the fifth straight league win for Coach Al Fendrick's Whippets and the second defeat out of seven games for the Raiders

Early in the first quarter, Bill Thompson, Shelby quarterback, intercepted a Norwalk pass and raced 55 yards to score the first touchdown. Stanton Jones, Whippet halfback, kicked his 13th placement out of 14 this season for the seventh point.

Dick Seitz, Shelby end, recovered a Norwalk fumble on the home team's 30-yard line to set the stage for the Whippets' second score in the final quarter. Successive plays with Thompson, Paul Fackler and Bill Keiser carrying the ball ended in a touchdown with Keiser scoring from the one-yard line. Jones' kick was good.

In the last quarter, the Maple City eleven began throwing passes with Don Sweet, Coach Grant Walls' star fullback, tossing the ball for 30 yards to McConkey, Norwalk halfback, who raced 20 yards for the Raiders' only score. The Whippets' line blocked Meagrow's attempted placement.

Shelby made six first downs to five for the Raiders

Once-beaten Upper Sandusky comes to Shelby next Friday night for the league's championship game.

Keiser Leads at Richmond

RICHMOND, Va —(AP)—Herman Keiser, a cool and deliberate shotmaker from Akron, Ohio, led a field of 160 into the second round today of the $10,000 Richmond Open golf tournament by virtue of a three under par 69 on the opening eighteen.

Demchuk Retains Wrestling Title

Johnny Demchuk retained his junior heavyweight title last night in the weekly wrestling card at the Armory by using his famous "Rolling toe hold" on Angelo Martinelli, who had replaced Davey Reynolds in the main-go.

Demchuk pinned Martinelli twice in succession.

In the preliminary match, Ken Mayne used leg strangler tactics to pin Ali Aliba and then Referee Frank Grazl eliminated the Turk for roughing Mayne and the Texas cowboy won his first match at the Armory

Promoter Earl Myers has signed Jesse James and Speed La Rance for next weeks preliminary match.

George Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears, has tagged Paul Governali of the Boston Yanks, as the outstanding T formation quarterback prospect in the National league.

Tygers to Test Skill As Mudders Tonight

Mansfield Senior high school footballers will get a chance to test their skill a mudders tonight when they travel to Canton Timken.

The Tygers have yet to go in the mud but constant rainfall bids fair to turn the Timken gridiron into a sea of "goo." Mansfield rolled over Springfield, 33-0, and tied Massillon last week on a slick field and should do all right tonight against the lighter Trojans.

Mansfield is favored to protect its 1946 unbeaten record against the in-and-out Timken aggregation. The Trojans lost their first two games and then came back to win three in a row. They soured slightly last week and went down before Canton Lehman, 19-12

The Tygers have won five and tied one.

However, Coach Bud Jones has six lettermen off the club which rocked the Bengals, 13, a year ago. Add a pair of servicemen and Jones has a team that could prove troublesome.

Snyder will go along with the same forward wall that has started the last five games namely: Al Henke and Jim Simpson, ends; Bob Rondy and Dan Boal's, tackles; Dave Richard and Dick Gross, guards, and Dan Wentz, center.

The backfield stacks up with Ollie Cline, Ralph Mays, Harry Osbun and Ross Friske in the starting slots. Osbun a sophomore line-blaster, moved into the No. 1 ball-toting quartet when Kenny Horvath suffered a broken leg Monday in practice.

Snyder and Jimmy Lymper, backfield mentor, have been grooming ex-Tackle Ray Beard as an understudy for the 175-pound Osbun. Beard, 195-pound senior letterman, has played tackle and defensive end this year.

Dressen's Logical Bet to Pilot Yanks

NEW YORK —(UP)— By a process of elimination, Charley Dressen, a baseball brain-truster, was today's most logical bet to become manager of the New York Yankees.

Dressen, who resigned as coach of the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday, without giving any reason, was expected to be named shortly to the post that long has been considered the best in baseball—bossing the talented crew of stars which makes its headquarters at Yankee stadium

FOR EXTRA SAFETY AND EXTRA MILEAGE THE NEW
B. F. Goodrich Silvertown
IS WORTH THE WAIT!
The new Silvertown tires have been setting records for long mileage, safety and economy not only on taxi fleets, police cars and special test cars but in regular car owner use.
These new tires are built with a broader, flatter tread that puts more rubber in contact with the road, spreading the wear over a larger area. To hold this heavier tread, B F Goodrich engineers developed a 35% stronger cord body with stronger cords and more of them . . . This meant better bruise resistance, greater safety. If you want the tire that OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES, place your order today. A little wait will be rewarded with today's biggest money's worth in tires.

'Women of M' End Their Day In Mock Trial

The Women of the Moose day at the city building ended in a "howling success" late yesterday afternoon with a mock trial in the municipal court rooms.

On "trial" were Lodge Governor Lloyd Hughes and Lodge Trustee Joseph Heilman. Hughes was "charged" with being a "suspicious person"; Heilman with "loitering."

The wheels of justice took some queer turns during the two-hour session but the queerest were when Hughes acted as "defense" attorney for Heilman—and vice versa.

"Prosecutor" Ruth Seymore pressed hard her case against the two "accused" 'midst the shrieks and shouts of laughter of other Women of the M.

"Jokes" abounded as the "defendants" squirmed under cross examination, because of shock-provoking buzzers placed on the witness chair.

The city's Clerk of Courts Paul Ritchie coached the session in real legal procedure but the trial strayed from a normal course.

The sobriety of "Judge" Bertha Fry's court was particularly disturbed when Defendant Hughes tried to "hand-cuff" Prosecutor Seymore's legs.

"Justice" was finally meted out, however, and after everyone "smiled pretty" for the cameraman, the women's day at city hall was over for another year.

Try and Stop Me

—By Bennett Cerf

A Kentucky colonel read aloud a recipe for roast ham. "Place the ham in a pot," it directed. "Soak it one day in bourbon and cook it for a while. The second day, add a bottle of Jamaica rum, and cook it for a while.

"The third day" the recipe continued, "add a bottle of port wine, and the fourth day some fine rye whiskey."

"How does that sound to you?" the colonel asked his old cook. "I dunno about the ham," was the reply, "but it sure sounds like the makin's of mighty powerful gravy."

"It's wonderful, the power I got over dumb animals," Goldfarb confided to his friend. "Dogs, cats, horses, no matter how wild, they all come up and lick my hand."

"Humph," sniffed the unimpressed friend. "Maybe if you'd eat with a knife and fork once in a while, they wouldn't be so friendly."

LOTS OF LAND

1. Prices are lower when people can't build than when construction is going full blast.

Here are some lots and acreage we bring for your consideration.

WHILE HALF-CONSCIOUS, YOU MUTTERED SOMETHING ABOUT ME- AND A "SILVER FLASH!"
NOW I REMEMBER! WHILE OUT, I HAD A VISION OF YOU RESCUING THE "SILVER FLASH" TRAIN FROM DISASTER AS IT ENTERED METROPOLIS!

Bedtime Stories

—By Thornton W. Burgess

Peter Rabbit had tried to call on Johnny Chuck and found Johnny had gone to bed and to sleep for the winter. From there Peter had visited Farmer Brown's garden to call on Old Mr. Toad. He hadn't made that call. "Old Mr. Toad was there, yet he wasn't," he told Mrs. Peter afterward. You see while Old Mr. Toad was in that garden no one knew just where he had buried himself when no one was looking, buried himself down in the earth to sleep through the long winter in what to him would be comfort, but which just the thought of makes me chilly. How about you?

So Peter had gone over to the Smiling Pool to see Grandfather Frog, but Grandfather Frog was neither to be seen nor heard, nor were any other Frog folk. It was strangely still there at the Smiling Pool, a lonesome stillness.

At least it was broken by a light splash among the rushes at the upper end. Then Jerry Muskrat appeared. He was swimming with just his head above water. Peter was glad to see him. Just seeing him ended that lonesome feeling.

"Hi, Jerry Muskrat!" cried Peter.

Jerry said nothing. He just rolled his eyes in Peter's direction and kept right on swimming. He couldn't speak because he had his mouth full. He was carrying some rushes over to his home out in the water. He kept right on swimming. Behind him two silvery lines which began at his nose grew farther and farther apart. When he reached his house he dived, taking the rushes with him. Of course he was adding them to his house. Peter knew that. But he did wish he could see how Jerry did it down there under water.

"Hi, Peter!" squeaked Jerry and dived.

Peter was disappointed. He watched for Jerry's head to bob up again, but it didn't bob up. Anyway it didn't bob up where Peter could see it. Presently out from the rushes swam Jerry. As before his mouth was full. He couldn't talk if he wanted to. As before he took the rushes down under water.

Just as Jerry disappeared another brown head bobbed up and in a moment Mrs. Jerry climbed up on the roof of the house.

"Hi, Mrs. Jerry!" cried Peter.

"Hi, yourself," replied Mrs. Jerry. Her voice was just as squeaky as Jerry's. She turned her back to Peter and began to look over the roof of her house as if that were the most important thing in the world just then. Perhaps it was. She and Jerry would need a good roof over their heads when cold weather came.

"You and Jerry seem to be busy," ventured Peter.

"We are," squeaked Mrs. Jerry. "We certainly are—too busy to talk," added Jerry, who had popped his head out of water just in time to hear Mrs. Jerry's reply.

Plop! Mrs. Jerry had dived. Peter turned to speak to Jerry. He wasn't there. Had they gone into the house? Peter suspected they had, but he couldn't be sure. The entrance was under water down at the bottom.

"It's a funny way to live," thought Peter. "I'm glad I don't have to go down under water to get in my house." Then he chuckled. You know Peter uses no house excepting in very bad weather. Then he uses an old house of Johnny Chuck's. But most of the time he has no real house.

A splash caused Peter to turn his head. There was Jerry with a mouthful of rushes. Behind him swam Mrs. Jerry. Her mouth was full also. As usual Jerry dived when he reached the house, taking the rushes down with him. Mrs. Jerry didn't dive. She climbed out on the roof dragging the rushes with her. Then she was very busy putting them in place on the roof. She seemed to be quite fussy about it.

Peter signed. "I guess they are too busyq to talk," thought he. They were.

GOP 'BIG GUNS' BLAST DEMS ON HOUSING, ROADS

Herbert, Bricker Lead Attack at Rally Attended By 700 in City.

"Restrictive controls prohibit building. Uneconomic, unsound New Deal regulations completely stifle production in this nation. The only way we can ever get goods is to take the dead hand of bureaucracy off labor, industry and agriculture," Bricker declared.

* * *

Welcomes Democrats.

McGregor said he welcomed the support of Democrats "caught in the alliance of the national Democratic administration and the Communists and others disbelieving in the American way of life.

"I consider by opponent (Wesley W Purdy of Mansfield) as a good Jeffersonian Democrat, a fine citizen and an American. But what will he do if he's elected? Will he hue to the administration line, take the orders of Harry Truman and vote for Sam Rayburn as speaker of the house? That's the position all good Democrats find themselves in today and that's why so many of them are deserting party ranks to vote Republican," McGregor said.

"This campaign is a warm-up for 1948. Good Republicans and Democrats are on one side and the New Dealers, pinks and punks are on the other. Give the government back to the people and we Republicans and Jeffersonian Democrats can resume our fight where we left it," he said.

Speaking also were C. B McClintock, candidate for the Fifth district court of appeals; C L. Shoup, running for county commissioner, John L Catlett, candidate for county representative to the Ohio legislature, Kingsley Taft, candidate for U S. senator (short term), Ebright and Ralph Winter, candidate for state senator to succeed himself

Municipal Judge H H Schettler acted as chairman Eugene Smart's accordion band provided music before the speakers took the stand

Bricker, Herbert Speak at Ashland

In Ashland both Bricker and Herbert spoke at a Republican rally in the high school auditorium. Herbert attacked Lausche's public school record as governor, stating

"Many of the public schools would be closed in Ohiotoday and the activities of all the schools would have been seriously curtailed if the Republican legislature had not passed the public school appropriation bill last year over the veto of the present governor

'The pledge of the Republican party that adequate funds will be made available to aid the public schools is backed by a performance record of having paid an inherited $18,000,000 school debt during the preceding six-year Republican administration

Bricker declared that the New Deal "has mortgaged the lives of our children and grandchildren for generations to come and he cited figures showing that a debt of about $2,200 hangs over the head of every man woman and child in the United States"

CUT SETS RECORD

WASHINGTON —(U P.)— Chief Lyle F. Watts of the U. S. Forest Service said today that the amount of timber cut from the national forests during the three months ending September 30 set a new all-time record of 1,103,484,000 board feet. It was the first time the billion mark was passed in a single quarter.

VISITING NURSE SERVICE ENDS

Association Votes to Quit Dec. 1, After 30 Years.

has been a participant in the Community Chest since its beginning, therefore the board felt that the service rendered did not warrant the cost to the public The $1,000 which belongs to the Community Chest will be turned back into their treasury. Over the years the Visiting Nurse association has received some bequests, part of which have been used in times of emergency to supplement the Community Chest funds."

Although the association was one of the 11 red feather agencies of the Community Fund, only $626 had been allotted to it for next year. This was about one-half of one per cent of the $94,000 total This money will be retained by the Community Fund

The board declared that its physicians' advisory committee had approved the plan to suspend

Appreciation was extended by the board to Miss Marjory Palmer "for her 24 years of faithful service as nurse and director of the association." Also praised was Miss Fay Chamberlain the second full-time member of the nursing staff who has worked with the association for 15 years.

The executive board of the Visiting Nurse association will remain intact to be ready in case of future need The executive board consists of Mrs Robert Black, president; Mrs. Ephraim Brown, vice president, Mrs Burton Preston, secretary, Mrs. George Mead, treasurer; Mrs George Draffan, Mrs Carvel Gorman, Mrs. E. R Hartman, Mrs Lester Redding, Mrs Joseph Lare, Mrs Paul Sturges, Mrs Avery Hand

The year 1816 is popularly known as the year without a summer because there were frosts and snow in every month in the northern states.

TRAFFIC TOLL GROWS

NEWARK—(AP)—Licking county's traffic death toll for the year stood at 16 today with the death yesterday of John Boyne, 59, of Newark from injuries received when an automobile struck him Sept. 17.

Toluene, important ingredient of TNT, was produced at about 13 cents a gallon during World War II. The World War I price was $2.

SAFEST FOURTH

CHICAGO—(INS)—A consciousness of war-time casualties and a lack of fireworks were credited today with making the Fourth of July in 1946 one of the safest Independence days in years.

STARS AGREE TO PART

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Tyrone Power and Annabella, whose seven-year marriage has often been described as one of Hollywood's happiest, have decided to separate, and close friends opined today that the reason probably was their wartime separation.

The earliest watches usually had just one hand—the minute hand was invented in 1687.

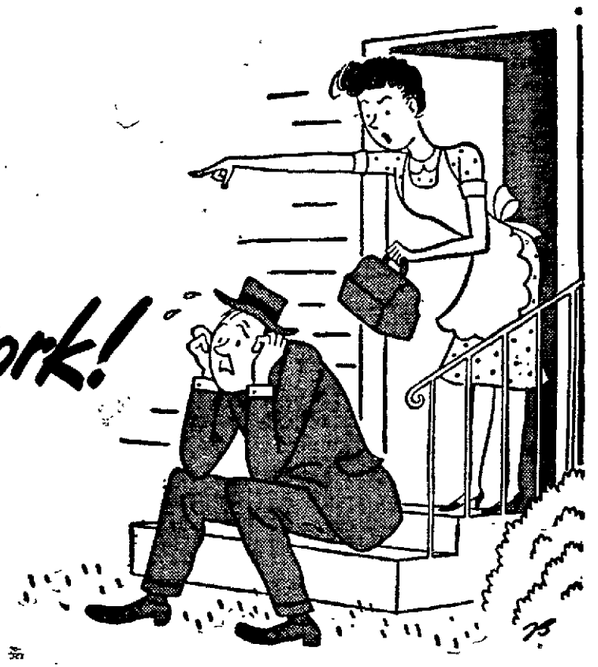
It's not that we don't love our work!



WE DO LOVE our work—but these days, we almost dread leaving home and going to our showroom.

So many people want new Packards, and there are so few coming through!

But you can't build cars without materials!

The factory is straining every effort to get more parts and material so production can be increased.

We're doing our best!

Some cars have been shipped with wooden bumpers, some without window regulator handles. This costs the factory a lot of money, for it means that replacements must be shipped and installed later.

Under such difficulties, it's a wonder the folks at the factory have done as well as they have. This year, compared to the same period of 1941, Packard has built a higher percentage of cars than the industry as a whole.

We don't dare predict!

Our customers have been so patient that we'd like to sound some optimistic note.

But word from Detroit says that parts and materials are still scarce. Steel continues to be limited. Shortages of lead, copper and other materials are looming up.

Scrap iron has been so scarce that Packard started the ball rolling on a nation-wide collection drive!

Take care of your present car!

Until you're sure of getting a new one, give your present car the best of care.

Lots of cars are running better and lasting longer because our trained mechanics have serviced them right. Give us a chance to catch those little troubles before they grow up into big ones.

Bring your car in any time. We're short on new cars, but we're long on helpful car-saving service.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 25 1946

As a revised version, the suggestion now is: "Trust in the United Nations but keep your uranium pile dry."

It is in Anthony and Cleopatra that Shakespeare has a character say: "I will eat no meat"—without explaining whether there was a scarcity or the prices too high.

Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers, hasn't been convinced yet—he says: "The union still believes wages can be raised without starting another price cycle" . . . but Henry Wallace changed his mind about that.

Only Profiteers Require Restraint

REMOVAL of government price controls on practically all food items offers an opportunity to demonstrate, rather quickly, if "free enterprise", functioning under the law of supply and demand, can be depended upon to act in behalf of the general welfare or will incline toward serving selfish interests.

The theory of "free enterprise", under a competitive system, includes assumption of integrity and honest intent by all those who enjoy its privileges, and if its operation evidences a spirit of profiteering, rather than a desire to perform a necessary service at a reasonable margin of profit, its proponents will be placed at a considerable disadvantage.

Jump in meat prices immediately after removal of controls provides an unhappy example of what can be done when demand exceeds supply. Retention of sugar rationing and price control probably results from recollection of profiteering on this food item after the first World war, when an actual or fictitious shortage permitted the retail price of sugar to skyrocket to 32 cents a pound.

Abandonment of all wage controls is anticipated as the next step in dropping war-time restraints, which will mean resumption of collective bargaining as the method of settling employe-employer differences. This will also serve to test the practicability of that means of maintaining continuous operation of industries, transportation systems and other necessary services, as well as increasing production to the extent of balancing supply and demand, and assuring price levels that will not work a hardship on the majority of people.

Threat of another strike by soft coal miners, coupled with indications of new demands for "wage readjustments" sufficient to meet the upward trend in commodity prices, tends to complicate the recovery picture, as this procedure appears to assure no stopping place on the road to such disastrous inflation as has been experienced in some other countries but has thus far been escaped in the United States.

Campaign Has Reached Lively Stage

INTEREST in the approaching election is growing daily.

This is reflected clearly in the increasing amount of space newspapers are giving the campaign. While this is quite natural before an election, there is an even greater effort than usual to fathom the exceptional rise in registrations—particularly in Ohio.

Most of the surveys being conducted on the congressional outlook give Republicans a substantial chance to reach a majority in the house of representatives.

Locally, an attempt to analyze the registration increase nets the usual contradictions. Democrats attribute it largely to returning veterans, many of whom did not have a chance to vote at home before the war. Republicans point significantly to the fact that registration boosts were greater in the wards that normally "go Republican."

There was, too, a greater effort this year to get people out to register.

But one thing is certain. Volume of registration indicates a healthy determination on the part of Mansfielders and other Ohioans to exercise their voting privilege—to take a real hand in government.

Is there general dissatisfaction with the way things have been going? Are certain groups lining up their members for an onslaught on the polls? These are questions the vote tabulation alone will answer. However, the way campaign interest is growing the vote tally may turn up one of the most exciting election stories in many years. And it will be another of those stories on how democracy works.

Dissension Makes Liveliest News

ONE THING that should be taken into account, as the United Nations general assembly reaches the debate stage in its New York meeting, is that appearance of dissension makes much livelier "news", and is more likely to be emphasized, than points of agreement—just as a neighborhood quarrel attracts more attention than peaceful behavior, and as divorces get more mention than marital accord.

In extending greetings to delegates at opening of the general assembly President Truman repeated what is already taken for granted, that "an overwhelming majority of American people, regardless of party, support the United Nations," and also that "this meeting symbolizes this country's abandonment of isolationism as a policy."

Many points of difference remain to be ironed out during the tremendous task of perfecting an effective peace-maintaining world organization such as the United Nations is designed to be, but such an accomplishment should not be considered impossible, nor should its success be retarded by continuance of talk of another war being "inevitable."

Those who are in best position to fully understand the frightful potentialities of another war are least inclined to regard it as inevitable. Their belief is that a way MUST be found to avoid another World war if civilization is to be permitted to make further advancement.

'City Folks' Buying Farm Property

A MAN who deals in farm property observes that very little of it is changing hands among farmers, but that the buyers of country places are mostly city folk.

A returned soldier, having seen the bomb-wrecked cities of Europe, suggests that, consciously or unconsciously, people are looking for a chance to leave the centers of population for the safer open spaces. Someone has said, "In time of peace, prepare for war." And this may be the thought back of some farm purchases.

More to be desired would be conscious, constructive work for peace, the attainment of which would make the whole world safe for everyone.

There's some indication that the inflationary trend in real estate is subsiding—but it will take a lot more subsiding before there can be much talk about a run-down property being a "good buy" at the price asked.

It is a writer to the New York Sun who suggests that President Truman be accorded the title, "The Happy Worrier."

Rogge Report Reveals How Some Americans Were Foiled By Nazis

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The amazing thing about Nazi propaganda before Pearl Harbor was the Nazis' ability to suck in certain high-placed and supposedly intelligent Americans even after Hitler had invaded Poland, overrun France and spread out over most of Europe. The Reader's Digest, largest circulating magazine in the world, was one of them.

The report on Nazi activities in the USA, prepared by John Rogge of the justice department after weeks of interviewing top Germans, shows that one editor of the Reader's Digest, Paul Palmer, was in consultation with Hans Thomsen, Hitler's personal ambassador in Washington; also with Manfred Zapp, head of the official Nazi propaganda agency, Trans-Ocean News Service.

The Rogge report, which many high politicoes tried desperately to suppress, also tells how DeWitt Wallace, owner and editor of the Reader's Digest, hired Lawrence Dennis, now under indictment for sedition, to do some smear pieces against Henry Wallace, then vice president of the United States.

Apparently, DeWitt Wallace knew how "hot" Dennis was, because he warned him to cut out his fascistic news letter. Also, the $4,300 which the Reader's Digest paid Dennis was not paid direct, but through a front man, Pendleton Dudley, a New York public relations agent.

Dennis also said that he also had collaborated with the Reader's Digest on an article by Senator Byrd of Virginia. This, according to the Rogge report, was in late 1941, shortly before Pearl Harbor.

"The Reader's Digest not only employed Palmer and Dennis," Rogge reported to his superiors in the justice department, "but also George T. Eggleston of Scribner's Commentator, the magazine which the Nazis subsidized."

Palmer was employed as an editor of the Reader's Digest from 1939 to 1945, and when Hans Thomsen, former Nazi ambassador in Washington, was questioned about him by Rogge, Thomsen gave the following report:

"I met Paul Palmer several times in Washington and lunched with him. He made a great impression on me and seemed to be a special admirer of Germany and wanted to engage in some sort of activity because he had some money and wanted to bring about certain relations. I don't know whether he himself was a writer, but I think he made an attempt at it."

It was in the summer of 1941, when Lawrence Dennis's activities already were looked upon with public suspicion, that the Reader's Digest surreptitiously hired him. Here is Dennis's own story of that employment, as told in the Rogge report:

"Last June, 1941, I did some work for Paul Palmer of the Reader's Digest. I did one thing for them and I got $1,500 in 1941. I had lunch with Wallace. He is the editor of the Reader's Digest. Wallace had lunch with me last spring. I don't know, February or March—I don't remember exactly when—and he said he wanted me to line up a set of articles on this quart of milk a day for everybody in the world, and freedom from want and poverty and all that sort of thing, the pros and cons, and he said he would have to be very careful not to let it be known that he was using me in any way.

"He said: 'You will have to stop your letter before it gets you in jail. They are not going to tolerate that kind of free speech now.'

"Well, in June, Palmer came to me and said that Wallace wanted to make me a proposition and he would give me $1,500 for the piece of work I did for him, and he would give me a monthly stipend for a while if I would shut the letter down, so he gave me $1,500 last June and put me on at $400 a month, which goes through this month (February, 1942) and in order to keep the thing very confidential he had it done through a public relations counsel."

Testimony which Rogge secured from former German diplomats in Nuremburg showed that Dennis was also working through George Sylvester Viereck, nephew of the kaiser, and chief Hitler propaganda agent in the United States (he's now serving a six-year jail sentence). Viereck had instructions from the German embassy in Washington to pay Dennis $20,000.

Thus the views which Dennis put out through the Reader's Digest and other channels appeared to be valuable to the Nazis.

Even as early as 1936, Dennis was well and favorably known to the Nazis; also to Paul Palmer of the Reader's Digest.

"When Palmer was thinking in 1936 of disposing of his interest in the American Mercury Magazine," says the Rogge report, "Dennis advised Richard Sallet, propaganda attache at the German embassy in Washington. Dennis told Sallet that this would be a good chance for the Nazis to obtain possession of a magazine.

"Palmer sent a copy of Dennis's book, The Dynamics of War and Revolution, to Thomsen. Thomsen replied:

"I am very grateful to you for sending me an advance copy of Lawrence Dennis's new book, 'The Dynamics of War and Revolution.' Just by skimming the pages it looks like a very interesting book to me by an author with whose trend of thoughts I am thoroughly familiar by reading his 'weekly foreign letter.'

Dennis had in mind setting up a secret propaganda organization which would make use of certain isolationist senators, such as Bob Reynolds of North Carolina, Bennett Clark of Missouri, now on the U. S. court of appeals, and Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, then, though not now, an isolationist. To some extent this was accomplished by Viereck, as described in another part of the Rogge report. But regarding the part of Reader's Digest editor Palmer in this, Rogge says:

"At one time Dennis, Palmer, and Philip Johnson were contemplating some sort of publication of their own. Dennis, in a letter to Johnson, has these comments on that scheme:

"'I think he (Palmer) wants to preserve anonymity, at least until the thing had got a respectable following. Well, that could be arranged.

"'We could write most of the first drafts, let him edit and tone it down, and then circulate it under any formula considered practical and expedient.

"'As soon as you get back, we should go down to see him. As I say in my letter to Palmer I have an introduction to Senator Reynolds from a V. P. of the Manufacturers Trust who is one of my subscribers. I think our strategy should be to turn out something which could be read and used by men like Senator Reynolds, Bennett Clark, Vandenberg, Lindbergh, etc. Writing for a small influential public and having no organization of dumbbells to embarrass us, we might be able to go right through a war, by observing a little caution and innuendo'."

That was how some Americans tried to spread German propaganda to fool other Americans even at a time when Hitler had overrun Europe and we were headed toward certain war.

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Monday, Oct. 25, 1926.

Mention was made of Mansfield's first snowfall of the winter.

Y. W. C. A. membership campaign ended with total enrollment of 565—including 241 new members.

Miss Marian Peabody, national field secretary of Y. W. C. A., gave talk here and expressed belief that "modern girls are more dependable and self reliant."

City agreed to re-purchase strip of land to re-open Dawson avenue south from Maple street.

Daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Piper, 301 Harker street.

Arrival of 15 new inmates brought reformatory population up to 2,247.

Anton Schacher, Chilton avenue, reported theft of his bicycle from in front of Vonhof hotel.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

The Battle of Balaklava, in the Crimea, took place on October 25, 1854. This battle was notable for a charge by the Light Brigade of which the French General Bosquet remarked, "It is magnificent but it is not war."

Dave Boone Says:

Well, the United Nations general assembly and the Big Four are ready to tackle the job of getting along together in a change of scenery. Everything is being done to promote world peace, even to getting the delegates seats to the good musicals.

Molotov has been through a New York welcome and there is no telling what that will do to him. It makes some people so warlike they ain't normal for months after. Others get so conceited they ain't ever good for much again except autographing programs, menus and scorecards.

The Waldorf-Astoria will be headquarters for the top peacemakers and somehow or other I wish they didn't need such a swanky setting. The greatest peacemaker of all time was born in a stable. I'd feel more hopeful if these modern peacemakers established themselves a little closer to simplicity and humility.

Unnamed Lobbyists Arouse Suicion.

WASHINGTON—As has been mentioned many times during previous days, only a tiny percentage of the admitted (privately, of course) lobbyists in the capital city have registered as such under the terms of the La Follette-Monroney measure passed just before congress adjourned.

Majority of the remainder let the October 10 filing deadline slip by in a more-or-less "try and catch me" frame of mind.

But what makes it even tougher for the nervous congressman to law when he's conversing with some hireling of special interests is the manner in which those who have complied with the new law have put their named occupation on record.

There are two filing forms—"A" and "B."

Firms, organizations, corporations, committees, clubs and the like must turn in Form A. Individuals—including those who work for the former groups—must file Form B.

Obviously, there is much duplication. Also, the general terms in which Form "A" is filled makes it possible for one lobbying firm to quietly do business for several groups and special interests not even listed under the law!

How much of this has happened is a matter of the purest sort of speculation.

Thirty-six separate groups have filed Form A, admitting their paid lobbying activities on Capitol Hill. Form B has been filed by 126 individuals who thus testify that they take pay for seeking to influence members of congress.

Several additional organizations who, as yet have not filed the group report have had the finger put on them unwittingly by individuals who filed Form B, naming their connections!

Enough of these incidents have occurred to bring the unofficial total of organizations up to approximately 55.

Most of the 36 officially filed are not the type of pressure group operators ordinarily associated with powerful lobbying. Rather, they represent civic, professional, veteran, religious, medical, tax, community and labor interests.

In the order in which they were filed, following names and addresses listed on the organization forms:

The American legion, Indianapolis; Retirement Federation of Civil Service Employes of Navy Yards, Arsenals and Navy Stations, Washington; Water Conservation Conference, Washington; Committee for a Nation's Health, New York; People's Lobby, Inc., Washington; Order of Railway Conductors, Washington; Committee for Constitutional Government, Inc., New York; National Home and Property Owners Foundation, Washington; Americans United for World Government, Inc., New York; The National Tax Relief Coalition, Greensboro, N. C.; National Rivers and Harbors Congress, Washington; The American Institute of Architects, New York;

Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Cleveland; Committee on Public Affairs, New York; National Association of Electric Companies, Washington; American Association of University Women, Washington; Union for Democratic Action, Washington; The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, Inc., New York;

American Library Association, Chicago; National Committee to Abolish the Poll Tax, Washington; Friends Committee on National Legislation, Washington; National Women's Christian Temperance Union, Evanston, Ill.; Reserve Officers Association of the United States, Washington; Ivy Lee and T. J. Ross, New York City;

National Physicians' Committee for the Extension of Medical Service, Chicago; American Optometric Association, Marion, Ohio; National Association of Postal Supervisors, Boston; The Joseph W. Hicks corporation, Chicago; American Pension Committee, Inc., Washington; The American Medical Association, Chicago;

Reserve Officers of the Naval Services, Washington; Townsend National Recovery Plan, Inc., and Townsend National Weekly, Inc., Cleveland; Unemployment Benefit Advisors, Inc., Milwaukee; National St. Lawrence Project Conference, Washington; National Federation of Small Business, Inc., Burlingame, Calif., and National Council for a Permanent Fair Employment Practice committee, Washington. . . .

That's the list, ladies and gentlemen. And behind that list lie many unnamed lobbyists—and you can take that verb either way you want to!

Pendergast Machine Revived In Missouri.

KANSAS CITY—Republicans are making a lot of political capital out here with the re-created Pendergast machine, President Truman's connection with it and his part in giving it a new lease on life.

But just as much capital is being made of it—if not more—in other sections of the country to hurt the Democratic party nationally.

Often such political machines lose as many votes for a party beyond their sphere of operations as they win locally, because of the plain moral issue involved.

The revived machine is directed by Jim Pendergast, nephew of the late Tom Pendergast. It resurrected itself from cold ashes. For the old machine had been completely wrecked by the federal government in a sweeping action that brought conviction of over 200 persons for election frauds. Boss Tom Pendergast went to jail in 1939 on income-tax charges growing out of insurance cases.

In its attempted comeback the machine began to pick up county offices here and there. But it got its first real break through President Truman. This was when the president intervened in the August primary in an effort to defeat Rep. Roger C. Slaughter, a conservative Democrat, for the valid reason that Mr. Slaughter had joined with the Southern Democratic-Republican coalition in the powerful house rules committee to block Mr. Truman's legislative program.

This was a real opportunity and Jim Pendergast shrewdly seized it. He threw his machine behind Enos Axtell, who was supported by the president. Mr. Axtell won the Democratic nomination by some 2,800 votes. But the machine also improved its position by capturing nominations to important county posts, including the presiding judge and the prosecuting attorney, winning these two nominations, however, by slim margins over the remnants of the Shannon machine allied with independent Democrats and Republicans.

Considering the president's part in it, this situation naturally attracted national interest and opened the way for the frequent repetition of the Truman-Pendergast link. How Tom Pendergast had started Harry Truman on his political career and helped him to advance. How Harry Truman had defended Tom Pendergast from the senate floor. How he fought successfully the reappointment as U. S. attorney of Maurice Milligan who had sent Tom Pendergast to jail. How he had flown in an army bomber as vice president to attend Tom Pendergast's funeral. How he had Jim Pendergast and his wife here at the White House as guests after he had become president.

President Truman's loyalty to the machine has brought him to this pass.

While such loyalty up to a point is understandable to many people here, even condoned by some, it is being asked now in many quarters why Harry Truman should carry it with him to the White House.

It is being pointed out that the president's obligation to Tom Pendergast should be cancelled out by now.

Population Growth Disturbs Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES—Beneath the hurried, rushing surface, social change is occurring in this very special part of America at a rate that must be at least geometric. Bubbling like red-hot lava just under the crust, it makes the content of the political campaign sound thin and irrelevant.

First and foremost, of course, is the population increase. Since 1940, a city the size of St. Louis has been added, numerically speaking, to the Los Angeles area.

What is more, the growth is continuing. It is estimated that, for every person leaving the area, four are coming to live in the climate which has been so highly publicized.

They tell you quite calmly that in another five years Southern California will have a population of 10,000,000. The present total for the entire state is put at 9,600,000.

Even if no other forces were at work, this extraordinary growth would compel social change on a wholesale scale. No one seems to want to face that fact. Los Angeles recently turned down a $44,000,000 bond issue that would have provided some of the essential facilities badly needed.

In this moment of high prosperity, the problems are obscured. As elsewhere, the force of unpredicted wartime spending is still predominant.

Until very recently, it was difficult or impossible to hire any kind of worker, skilled or unskilled, but how all the newcomers will earn their living when the impetus of government billions for war finally ends, is a question in many minds.

The peak of wartime employment has in many industries long since been reduced to a modest peacetime plateau.

The Douglas Aircraft Corporation had a payroll of 100,000 in California alone in the fall of 1943. It fell off from that high level because the company could not obtain essential workers in the fiercely competitive labor market. Today the Douglas payroll in California is about 23,000. That may expand a little but not more than a few thousand. It is fairly clear that the aircraft industry will not provide mass employment.

It will take something else, something more nearly adapted to the pre-war pattern of living. A sizable tornado named Henry J. Kaiser has a burning desire to supply that something.

But the ultimate decisions are political.

During the war, Kaiser built a steel plant at Fontana, 60 miles from Los Angeles, with money borrowed from the government. It was the first plant of its kind in this part of the world.

Fontana has capacity orders well into 1948. At present high prices, the plant can break even and still pay back the government at a fixed annual rate, but Kaiser is looking ahead to the time when operation will not be capacity and when prices will drop.

He wants to get his government loan scaled down, and one of his chief arguments is the fact that the United States Steel company was able to buy a government-owned steel plant at Geneva, Utah, for 20 cents on the dollar. That, says Kaiser, gives his nearest competitor an unfair advantage.

The cry of "government favoritism" is being raised to checkmate Kaiser. Just as though government favors — land grants to the railroads, for example — have not underwritten a large share of American enterprise.

The people will be here. This is a fact no one can look around. If they are not on a private payroll, then they will be on a government dole.

Farmer's Diary: "Children as Comrades."

A READER in Arizona has sent me a book of poetry by Charles Peguy, translated from the French. One poem, "France Must Go On", begins like this.

"Would a father's heart be in his work if he did not have his children,

If it weren't for his children?"

Then it describes the peasant woodcutter as he works in the icy forest, remembering all the while his wife and three children at home. His tools which he loves—his hard hands—"his tools, from being used so often have made his hand all callous and shiny, But he by using them so often has made their handle smooth and shiny."

The peasant thinks of his sons and daughter, and is proud of their stock. . . . "Now good race does not belie itself,

Good mother's sons;

And above all . . . with his tools and his race and his blood, his children will inherit:

"What is worth more than a house and a piece of land . . .

For house and land are perishable and will perish.

And house and land are exposed to the winter wind . . .

But God's blessing is blown by no wind."

* * *

THE DISTANCE from our barn to our house is short, but it has a beaten path and grass worn down on either side. I would not wish to know it otherwise.

At evening when I arrive home, the boys are often at the barn to begin chores. The car door slams, and they come running. Sometimes I wonder whether it is to greet me, or just to find out what I may have brought them . . . a new pair of shoes, a mended ball glove, or an occasional chocolate bar.

At least they come—and that path to the house is the scene of the outblurted news of their day. The youngest nudges close and if it is cold hides his face beneath my coat. I know a simple strength, a comradeship that I hope may never pass.

I am old, they are young; but memory builds a bridge that levels out from where I stand to them. And when I reach their little traveled part, my heart runs to meet their youth; I see the sky as blue as they; catch the same pungent odors of food, and of the field; swing beneath the maples until it "feels like flying;" lag abed of mornings until the sun shines full on my face; go headlong into the old swimming pool, on a summer afternoon and warm up on the bank while I hunt the most fragrant mint for eating.

I know how fine the flavor of red and yellow apples is, mellowed in cool bluegrass beneath the spreading trees. In all their childish joys of heart and hand, of ear and eye, of taste and smell, I always wish a firmer partnership.

Paul-Henri Spaak Knows How To Perform Disappearing Act

NEW YORK—(INS)—Paul Henri Spaak, Belgian president of the U.N. general assembly and a dead ringer for Winston Churchill (30 years ago) can teach his Russian colleagues a thing or two about the now-you-see-me, now-you-don't act.

Nothing like a straight walk-off for the 47-year old foreign minister.

Six years ago the chunky Belgian slipped through a Nazi cordon in Belgium, eluded them in France and got to Spain where Franco's secret service caught him.

Because he was a diplomat he was concentrated in a Barcelona hotel.

But Spaak, who is nothing if not resourceful, limped down the hotel steps one sunny Barcelona morning, dressed as a Franciscan monk.

Franco's boys bowed reverently while the British secret service held open the door of a waiting limousine.

Along the way, Spaak—who puts himself to sleep on detective thrillers—hopped into a false-bottom trunk, courtesy of the British.

By the time Franco's smart boys caught on, he was in Portugal, headed for England.

The Belgian diplomat not only looks like Britain's elder statesman. He also has Winnie's passion for saying what everyone else is thinking.

Yesterday, from the steps of New York's city hall, Spaak said candidly he was disappointed with the coolness of the reception U.N. delegates got in their ride down Broadway.

He added, however, it was probably just as well, that delegates should get out of the conference room and discover the temper of the people.

The small nations, who call Spaak "the passionate one," are putting their faith in him to make their voices heard over the din of the major powers.

The stock ticker was invented by Samuel F. Laws, a Presbyterian clergyman.

Ike Sees Bradley As His Successor

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower indicated yesterday he expects General Omar Bradley, veterans administrator, to be his successor as war department chief of staff.

He added, however, that he does not know when that may be. "I don't know when he can be spared from his present job," Eisenhower told reporters. "He was put there by the president and while I understand there was a definite limitation on his service, I don't know when he can be spared."

GLASSES MOVE

PONTIAC, Mich.— (INS) —O. J. Beaudate, retired motor businessman, has received the binoculars he loaned the U. S. Navy during the war. The glasses are now inscribed with the Navy insignia—and the names of all men who used them during the war. Included is the name of Admiral King, and a number of officers of lesser rank.

Family Faces Lie Detector Tests

SUPERIOR, Wis. —(AP)— Dist. Atty. Andy Borg said today he had ordered lie detector tests for Mrs. Irene Lind and her two daughters in connection with the fatal shooting last Thursday of Clarence Lind, 39, head of the family.

Borg said the trio would be taken to St. Paul, Minn. today. The tests were ordered, the district attorney said, to detect any disparity in versions of the shooting which occurred while Lind was in bed at his home. The 12-year-old sobbed throughout funeral services for her father yesterday.

'COCKTAILS' POISON

FRANKFURT, Germany—(AP)— One American soldier is dead and 18 are ill, four critically, from drinking "cocktails" of poison alcohol and fruit juice in a prison stockade at Heidelberg, the U. S. Third army announced yesterday.

Huber-Casad Vows Exchanged At Woodard Home Last Night

THE P. H. WOODARD HOME, 791 Maple street, was the scene of the wedding of Miss Kathleen Juanita Huber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Huber of Columbus, and Richard James Casad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Casad, R. D. 6, Mansfield, last night.

Rev. R. W. McNary, pastor of the Ontario Community church, read the wedding service before the candlelit fireplace banked with palms, ferns and baskets of fall flowers.

For her wedding the bride was attired in a pink nylon street length dress with a matching halo hat trimmed with veiling. Her accessories were black and she carried white roses on a white Bible.

Attending Miss Huber was Miss Edith Casad, sister of the bridegroom. She selected a brown dress with brown accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Huber chose a black crepe and satin dress with black accessories while Mrs. Casad wore blue crepe with brown accessories. Both wore pink rose corsages.

Robert Huber, brother of the bride, of Columbus, acted as best man.

When the couple return from a short wedding trip to Cleveland they will reside at 187 Fairlawn avenue.

The former Miss Huber was graduated from Ohio State University with a B. S. degree in education. She is a member of Kappa Phi sorority and is on the faculty of Springfield Township school, Ontario.

Mr. Casad, a graduate of Ohio State University, is a veteran of three years and eight months in the U. S Army with 37 months in the Philippines, Hawai, and South Pacific. He is now a coach on the faculty of Springfield school.

Try French-Fried Snake as Meat Substitute, Says Zoo Director

By CLAIRE COX

CHICAGO — (UP) — R. Marlin Perkins knows how to lick the meat shortage. Or so he says.

Anyone with time, patience, ammunition, and a spirit of adventure can find substitutes for beef, pork and lamb, he said.

For instance, there is French fried rattlesnake.

Or if that isn't appealing, perhaps you would like broiled alligator or roast stuffed crow.

Perkins, who is director of Chicago's Lincoln Park zoo, said all of these dishes are mighty tasty.

Why worry about the absence of steaks, he asked, when there are muskrat, raccoon, skunk, turtle, or opossum to be had.

According to Perkins, who claims to be in a position to know, almost any clean living animal would make a good substitute for the regular meat dish.

Perkins said he liked chicken-fried snake best. He said almost any variety would water in your mouth, if cooked correctly.

"It tastes like frog legs, only better, and the meat is as white as turkey breast," he said.

He warned housewives not to run after the first garted snake they see, however. A non-poisonous snake in the grass, it seems, is worth two on the table.

"The harmless kind kill rodents and other pests," he explained. "That's why we don't recommend them for appetite killers.

"People should stick to poisonous snakes for eating purposes If properly killed, they are perfectly harmless."

Perkins said really desperate persons might try eating French fried mice.

"I've never tasted them myself, but some of my best friends have," he added. "They thought they tasted just fine."

In a test it was found that when penicillin was used daily in the tooth powder oral bacteria dropped from an average of 72,000 to 300 in three weeks.

FOR THAT CHIC appearance on a fall day here's one of the latest creations seen at a New York hat salon. It's a three-quarter type beret of mauve felt, heart-shaped in contour. Pink coque feathers create a graceful effect.

Handbags Will Be High Priced For Long Period

By BARBARA BUNDSCHU
(United Press Fashion Writer)

NEW YORK—The harassed shopper may as well dig down in her tattered pocketbook and plunk out the money for a new one today. Handbags won't be any cheaper for at least five years, unless there's a depression, manufacturer Richard Koret predicts.

But the man who makes most of the finest handbags American women know offers a cheerful comment with the bitter pill.

The buyer of a handbag for $25 or more is getting as much for her money today as she ever did, Koret said.

She doesn't get a comparable value in the $7.50 to $25 range, he said. Those bags used to sell for $5 to $15, but Koret explained that was a depression market in which manufacturers were selling in those price ranges at marginal profit just to keep in business.

But there is relief for the budget buyer. Fabrics, which are not less expensive than leather although they are more plentiful, wear better than the inexpensive hides. And in handbags selling at $3 to $10, Koret points out, there are now plastics which are much better wearing and frequently better looking than comparably priced leathers.

There are beautifully finished dressy bags in Koretolope the firm's own suede which won't come off on white gloves. And there's a 70 per cent fur, 30 per cent wool fabric which should give it some stiff competition. It has a shiny luster new to fabrics and a dress material's adaptability to tucks and draping. It's called Korenaca.

Brocades and beads and gold and silver kid sparkle the evening collection. And there's calf, too, if not as much as Koret or the buyer would wish.

The kapok used in life preservers is the same material as that used in pillows and mattresses.

MARKET BEGINS TO STRIVE FOR UPWARD TREND

Stocks Show Inclination to Move Higher Despite Light Demand.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Stocks, with scattered exceptions, inclined to work a bit higher in today's market although demand remained relatively light.

Buyers paid a little more attention to another batch of good dividends and earnings, brokers said, although there were some unfavorable compilations and much skepticism still was in evidence due to widespread labor disputes and apprehension over a nearby coal strike.

Douglas Aircraft was buoyed by an additional $2.50 disbursement. Ahead most of the time were Bethlehem, Republic Steel, U. S. Rubber, Southern Pacific, Kennecott and Westinghouse. A drop in net apparently depressed General Electric and C.I.T. Financial. Other laggards were Du Pont, Woolworth, Goodrich and Northern Pacific.

The best figures available indicate that the present petroleum supply will be exhausted in less than 14 years.

Barclay on Bridge

By SHEPARD BARCLAY

RESPONDING with 1-No Trump to your partner's informative or takeout double of the opponent's suit bid does not indicate possession of more than a few honor cards, equal to about one trick-plus or perhaps as much as a bare two tricks. But it does proclaim protection against the adversely-bid suit. Ordinarily this means two probable stoppers, or else one pretty certain stopper plus an additional possible stop. If only one stopper is held, your suit should usually be long enough to reduce the danger from it, or else you should have some pretty solid side tricks to run.

When South led the spade 2, North did some quick counting, and read East as having only a spade and thus assure his side three tricks in the suit. East then took two high hearts and gave up another, hoping for the lucky break he got. But, when South won that trick, the defense added two tricks each in spades and diamonds to set the contract two. East was lucky not to be down still one more with the plan he used, and would have been if North had held five spades and South three.

East's hand was not well adopted to a No Trump response to the double, since he had only two spades and of course only one possible stopper. In other respects his hand was plenty strong, in fact, strong enough to go boldly into game when West properly raised to 2-No Trumps. The proper 2-Clubs by East would have been passed and made, with probably an extra trick.

Of course East could have limited himself to one down if that had been his purpose, for after getting in with the spade K, he could have run seven more tricks with two in hearts and five in clubs. In fact, it is hard to see what he had to gain by giving up that heart in an effort to set up a ninth trick, which surely he never could cash.

Pontiac leads its field by such a wide margin because there is no substitute for what it offers. There is no substitute for Pontiac beauty—for Pontiac performance—for Pontiac comfort—or for Pontiac safety and handling ease. And the years of wartime usage proved conclusively that there is no substitute for Pontiac dependability! Pegler — Fair Enough

NEW YORK—The 1946 campaign has wrought some interesting political novelties.

In New York, a paper organization calling itself the Business and Professional Men's Committee of the Democratic State Committee has abused Governor Tom Dewey for accumulating a surplus of 500 millions in the state treasury and for his failure to abolish the state income tax which, the committee's advertisement says, is the highest on personal incomes with the exception of Oregon's.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, some time previously, had complained of the same surplus, a phenomenon of which her late spouse had never been accused and one which, in the lady's unaccustomed sight, must seem truly menacing.

Here, then, for the first time in a rather extensive political experience, which has included ham 'n' eggs and share our wealth, the nation has heard a candidate seriously condemned for running a state up to its eyes in prosperity. The committee, which is supporting Senator James M. Mead for the governorship, a loyal gesture of wasted motion by common consent long before the voting, fearlessly condemns Mr. Dewey for his stubborn refusal to spend the surplus. Thus, theoretically, he might save rent and the hire of watchmen for the dead storage of the money, but the saving would be only theoretical, for it has been observed in Washington that the storage and protection of the national debt and the deficit have been expensive items, too, in the bill against the taxpayers.

* * *

ALTHOUGH MR. DEWEY has reduced the income tax to a pleasurable degree and thereby did hearten an unknown number of residents who had begun to yearn in earnest for the illusory freedoms of New Jersey and Connecticut, the Business and Professional Men's Committee takes him angrily to task because he hasn't abolished the state tax altogether. This comes with a strange sound, as of politicians strangling on a paradox, when it is recalled that the late Roosevelt left the state of New York with a forbidding rate of taxation on incomes and that his successor, Herbert H. Lehman, not only preserved the master's tradition but raised him by a special one per cent emergency levy.

Dewey's "unrealistic, unbusinesslike income tax policy is driving important business and important residents out of New York," the committee says, leaving those who read its patriotic writ to wonder how, if that is the case, any business or any residents could have persuaded themselves to remain through the Roosevelt and Lehman administrations.

This, of course, is mere amusement, but the best the party of humanity has been able to offer in a campaign whose result has been conceded so long that Mr. Dewey has been able to run his contest sitting down. Barring a few remarks in favor of tolerance and free immigration to Palestine for vote-insurance in the city of New York, he has not had to exert himself any more than a drowsy man brushing away a listless fly. Inasmuch as there is no city in the country where racial and religious prejudices are less manifest by the majority but where the "minorities" are less tolerant of self-respect, decent pride and free opinion among the quiet and mannerly majority, the first of these gestures by the governor has been plainly intended only to compensate the mechanized bawling of the Communists and the political actionists of the CIO as to Palestine, which may be a concern of the state department of the national government, but certainly no official affair of the governor of New York, it is generously recognized, in justice to Mr. Dewey, that there is a mock-issue in a state campaign which has been substituted for the old synthetic Irish question, now happily solved. A little tail-twisting at the expense of the British Lion can make no difference one way or another in the settlement of the Palestine affair, but, where silence might be falsely construed as hostility to the cause, the governor is generally conceded the privilege of sounding the familiar ingratiating note.

Othman — On Anything

WASHINGTON — (LP) — The time has not yet come to buy shirts and I don't care what Senator Cotton Elmer Thomas claims. I'm even inclined to ignore Representative Cotton John Rankin.

Cotton Elmer of Oklahoma says there was a conspiracy to break the price of cotton. Cotton John of Mississippi uses the phrase, dirty work.

The agriculture commissioner of Texas says politics did it. The commissioner from Georgia says the Truman administration is the villain. A Mr. C. C. Smith of the agriculture department says the fact is, there's more cotton piled up around the world than anybody realized.

Not one of these gentlemen agreed with any other at Sen. Thomas' inquiry into the price of cootton. Everybody was sore at somebody and, to coin a phrase, all was confusion. Sen. Thomas wouldn't even be surprised if Oklahoma went Republican.

He's unhappy also about charges that he lost a chunk of his own cash in the cotton market. This is a libel and he's going to prove it if he has to print the names of everybody else who was selling cotton he didn't own on the fateful day a week ago when the market collapsed.

* * *

REP. RANKIN, who hung around and hung around some more and never did get a chance to testify, dropped his statement at the press table. It said now that the manipulators had done their dirty work and the farmers and sold their cotton at a sacrifice, the price would skyrocket. His word.

I do not believe I ever have been so confused at a senatorial hearing. The session wound up with Smith saying there is no world shortage. And with Tom Linder, the agricultural chief of Georgia saying yes sir, and next year's crop will be short, too, because of the fertilizer shortage. So let's talk about shirts.

About six months ago one of Washington's snootiest haberdashers put in a stock of shirts imported under OPA ceiling prices from Brazil. The cheap ones — and cheap they certainly were—sold for $7.95 a copy. The medium grade, with buttons that seemed to be sewn on solidly, retailed at $8.50. The good quality ones, available in pastel shades of blue, green and peach, were priced at $10 each. I wrote an item about this inflation in the shirt market, at the time; the other day I dropped into the same store. There were most of the same shirts.

* * *

SHIRTLESS Washingtonians had bought up the cheap $7.95 ones, but they had balked at paying one cent more.

As of now there's a shirt sale in progress; the first since outbreak of the war. The $8.50 shirts from Brazil are marked down to $5. The $10 shirts are priced at $6.

I doubt if anybody except perhaps a Brazilian cares to wear peach-colored shirts at any price. The fact remains that they are of excellent quality; the clerk said the $10 shirts now selling for $6 probably are worth by pre-war standards about $3.95.

The gimmick—and I write this for the benefit of the cotton experts—is that nobody's rushing in to take advantage of the bargain. Any day now the price is going to drop again, no matter what the legislators say. When you spy one of these gents in a peach-flavored shirt, you'll know that Cal Coolidge's normalcy has returned.

ASHLAND PLANS GALA WEEKEND AT HOMECOMING

Recital, Football Game, Rally, Parade, Barbecue, Play on Schedule.

ASHLAND — Planning a recital, rally, parade, football game, barbecue, play and vesper service, Ashland college on Saturday will stage its first elaborate homecoming celebration since before the war.

Presiding over all will be Miss Ruth Applegath, chosen Homecoming queen by the football squad. She and her attendants, Mrs. Dale Roesch, of New Lebanon, and Miss Phyllis Long, of Perrysville, will be presented at the football game between Ashland college and Hiram.

Alumni who arrive today will be entertained with a recital by the faculty of the music department tonight.

Saturday morning students will stage an old-fashioned football rally featuring a snake dance through the downtown area headed by the Ashland college band resplendent in the new uniforms recently presented by a group of Ashland people. The 60-piece band, fully equipped with instruments provided by the same individuals responsible for the uniforms, is directed by Chester Fair of the music faculty.

With some 500 students and alumni expected to be on hand for the festivities Saturday and no place available to feed that many people on the campus or even in the city, the college committee announced it will stage a barbecue on the campus.

Following the barbecue, the Footlighters club, directed by W. H. Miley, head of the college speech department, will stage "She Stoops to Conquer" at the McDowell auditorium.

Miss Beth Boardman will replace the leading lady, Miss Peggy Shively, whose illness has forced her withdrawal from the cast.

Other members of the cast include Robert Wolfgang, Earl Garnes and Mary Benninghof, all of Mansfield; Janet Greene, Bellville; Sam Richmond, Nappanee, Ind.; Phil Nolton, Stockton, N. J.; Bonnie Smith, Ashland; Joseph Hamel, Johnstown, Pa.; Charles Munson, Fairplay, Md.; James Granger, Crestline; Carrol Rinehart, Mt. Gilead and Dick Topper, Ashland.

Homecomers remaining over Sunday will be guests at a vesper service at 4 p. m. with members of the music department appearing in a prelude to the service.

Record Prices For Soy Beans

CHICAGO—(AP)—Soy beans, the "wonder bean" of the Orient, today was returning wondrous prices to farmers harvesting a crop almost twice as large as those produced immediately prior to the war.

When price ceilings were removed from fats and oils last week they went off this "little honorable God," as the Chinese long ago named the soya bean. Since decontrol prices have spurted to record highs.

Beans are selling in the Chicago market at around $3.50 a bushel. This compares with a ceiling of $2.32½ in effect before decontrol.

Bids going out to the country from some buyers last night were as high as $3.45 a bushel, on track in Illinois and Indiana.

Dual Classes To Seperate

BUCYRUS — Increased enrollment in Bucyrus schools has made necessary the separation of double grades in several of the city schools, effective November 1, Supt. D. C. Baer announced today.

A double grade at Lincoln and at Norton and one of the two double grades at Crawford have already been abolished. One of the two at Kearsley will be eliminated next week.

Elimination of the double classes has required the hiring of six additional teachers, increasing the payroll by about $9,000.

Certify Crawford Steel to Bargain

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Crawford Steel Foundry company union has been certified as collective bargaining agent for employes of that firm, the National Labor Relations board announced today.

The board reported that in an election Sept. 16 at the foundry company 134 of 189 eligible voters selected the Crawford Steel Foundry company union and 31 voted for the CIO.

CRESTLINE — The rank of Page was conferred on three candidates by Acting Master of Work Martin Burkhart at the regular Knights of Pythias meeting earlier this week here.

Announcement was made of the district meeting at Sycamore Thursday evening, and that the rank of Esquire would be conferred on seven candidates next Monday night.

Past Chancellor A. D. McKellar presided for the initiation, and Past Chancellor W. H. Blancett for the business session. Visitors from Mt. Gilead were present.

TWO FALL 40 FEET

BUCYRUS—Treated for injuries received by a 40-foot fall when a ladder slipped while they were painting a barn at Chatfield this week, Roy McWain, 23, of Kentucky, was discharged from the City hospital. His partner, Terrence Hamilton, 23, also from Kentucky, is still a patient at the institution.

Ashland Men Protest Sentences Given Boys From County Home

ASHLAND—Published protests were issued here yesterday against the sentencing Wednesday of three boys at the Ashland county children's home to terms in the Boys' Industrial school at Lancaster for starting the $15,000 blaze which destroyed the barn at the institution Monday.

The trio, aged 11, 13 and 14, were sentenced to terms of two years each for the two older boys and a one to two year term for the 11-year-old youth.

R. B. Newcomb and L. R. Jelly, both of Ashland, charged that the boys "weren't old enough to realize the import of their act" and that the youths were not given legal protection at the hearing.

Another Ashland citizen, William Fair, compared the recent acquittal of a Lake township farmer, indicted for second degree murder in the fatal shooting of a young mother of three children, with the conviction of the three boys "inside of 30 hours."

"What goes on in the city of Ashland and the Ashland county children's home, anyway," Fair asked.

Ashland residents are demanding an investigation into the conviction of two of the youths of arson and one of attempted arson.

The boys were captured near the scene of the fire Monday, and admitted setting fire to the barn in retaliation for being sent to bed supperless Sunday night, Fire Chief Paul Soles said.

Curiosity Sometimes Gets Results

LOUDONVILLE —(AP)— Curiosity some times pays off. Melvin Hoyer of Loudonville chuckled today.

While driving to Cleveland Saturday he paused at a farm auction beside the road. He bid 25 cents on a box, no one else bid and he got it.

In the box were a bunch of political campaign buttons, a couple of dirty vases and a tarnished watch.

He distributed the buttons among neighborhood children, cleaned up the watch and discovered it was an Elgin in running order, and turned the vases over to a sister-in-law to polish.

In one vase was a piece of folded paper, glued to the bottom.

She pried it out, unwrapped it and found five $20 bills.

FORMER WIFE ALLEGES LIFE THREATENED

Cab Company Owner Bound to Grand Jury; Furnishes $2,500 Bond.

GALION — A 39-year-old man was held in city jail here today on charges of breaking and entering and assault with intent to kill his former wife after a hearing yesterday before Mayor William Amann.

John Schill, owner of the Safety Cab company of Galion, was bound over to the Crawford county grand jury under bond of $500 and $2,000 respectively on the charges, brought by his ex-wife, Mrs. Thelma Schill of Galion.

Police said they were called to Mrs. Schill's residence at 1:15 a. m. Thursday, where they found Schill in his former wife's bedroom with a 12-gauge shotgun, with which he is alleged to have struck her.

According to police, Mrs. Schill was bleeding at the left ear from a blow which she said she received when struck by a blow from the barrel of the gun. She also had been struck in the groin by the butt of the gun, police said.

The 12-year-old daughter of the divorced couple, Judy, received a broken forearm when she fell over a wheelbarrow while running to a neighbor's home to seek help.

Police said they found Schill in an intoxicated condition. The shotgun was found empty, with 12-gauge shells lying on the bedroom dresser, police testified.

Mrs. Schill told police that she had spoken to her former husband early Wednesday afternoon. She then went to the offices of the Northern Ohio Telephone company, where she is employed as an operator.

Shortly after midnight, she said, Schill telephoned her residence and spoke to Mrs. Schill's mother, Mrs. Turner, demanding that his former wife talk to him. She said he threatened to shoot her, but added that he had made similar threats before.

Mrs. Schill said she retired again, and was awakened when Schill entered the house through a bathroom window. The alleged assault followed, she said.

The couple were divorced a year ago last July. They are the parents of three children, and their recent disagreements are believed to be over the custody of their children.

CPA GETS PLANS FOR SANATORIUM

Agency Will Be 'Sympathetic,' Spokesman Says.

Richland county's plans for a new $300,000 tuberculosis sanatorium were on their way to the Cleveland office of the Civilian Production administration today but the application for a permit to build has been delayed pending revision of cost estimates.

County commissioners and other county tuberculosis officials today turned the plans over to a CPA representative who recommended that cost estimates in the permit application be made more "realistic."

"The CPA is entirely sympathetic to your project, but it is rigidly held to a restricted budget and must have your cost figure as close as possible to the actual expense of building your hospital," the CPA official said.

The county commissioners, members of the TB advisory board, Architect H. S. Jones and the CPA official, who declined to give his name, all agreed that it would cost at least $400,000 to build the sanatorium in the present period of skyrocketing construction costs.

The permit application which had been readied for the CPA official showed a total cost figure of $300,000 ($250,000 for general construction and $50,000 for the plumbing, heating and wiring systems).

The commissioners withheld the application and discussed the possibility of placing the total cost at $400,000, $350,000 of it for general construction.
